

Method for removing N<sub>2</sub>O during the production of nitric acid

Abstract

5 N<sub>2</sub>O is removed in nitric acid manufacture by using catalysts comprising three-dimensional structures coated with catalytically active materials.